Homophones: nouns and verbs

I can... choose between noun and verb homophones like advice and advise.

In some word pairs, the noun ends in -ce and the verb ends in -se: advice (noun) and advise (verb), practice (noun) and practise (verb).

prophecy (noun) and prophesy (verb) work in the same way.

Top tip: ice is a noun, so -ice words are nouns: advice, device, practice.

Revise -cious, -tious, -ant, -ent

I can... use spelling rules for -cious, -tious, -ant and -ent.

-cious usually follows a root word ending in -ce (grace → gracious). Otherwise try -tious (ambition → ambitious).

-ant words make nouns with -ance (elegant → elegance). -ent words make nouns with -ence (intelligent → intelligence).

Top tip: If you are not sure, write both and see which one looks right.
